

Franziska Schutzbach

Franziska Schutzbach (1978) is a book author, gender researcher/sociologist (Dr. phil.) and lecturer. In 2024 she took over the management of FemWiss (Verein Feministische Wissenschaft Schweiz). Franziska Schutzbach has been writing, researching and teaching in the field of gender studies for many years. Topics include “Reproductive health and rights”, “Care work and reconciliation”, “Gender-based violence”, “Misogyny, antifeminism and right-wing populism”. Her latest non-fiction book was published in October 2021: “Die Erschöpfung der Frauen. Against female disposability”. In October, her new book “Revolution der Verbundenheit. How female solidarity is changing society”. Franziska Schutzbach is the mother of two children. She is also a member of the Basel-Stadt Equal Opportunities Commission and organizes the monthly feminist salon at the Kaserne Basel.