

Susan Emmenegger

Istituto Svizzero

Susan Emmenegger is a full professor of law and the director of the Institute of Banking Law at Bern University. She has also served as vice dean and dean of the law school. Her research focus is on financial markets law, contracts, comparative contract law, corporate governance, and legal methods. Emmenegger served in the advisory board to the Swiss government on financial policy and regulation (2013-2019), as board member and vice president of the Swiss Takeover Board (2005-2017), and as board member of the Swiss Financial Markets Authority (2020-2024). She holds a law degree, a doctorate and a habilitation from Fribourg University (Switzerland), an LL.M. from Cornell Law School (USA), and an honorary doctorate from the Vienna University of Economics and Business. She passed the New York bar and the Zurich bar and practiced law in both countries. Susan Emmenegger has held teaching and/or research appointments at various universities, including the European University Institute in Florence, the Vienna University of Economics and Business, the Max-Planck-Institute (Hamburg), NYU Law School, and Cornell Law School.